ROBERT B. BULL DIED FROM INJURY

Wednesday night, late, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Bull, who reside south-east of Hamlin, received a message that their son Robert B. Bull, had been found on a road near McCamey seriously injured. Later a message said that he had died about 12:10 o'clock.

Only meager information could be had during Thursday. It seems that the man was found about dark, and that he was coming or going to his station to work. He was an engineer for one of the Shell Pipe Line Stations.

Robert B. Bull was 28 years of age and leaves a wife. The body was to arrive in Hamlin, late Thursday and interment will be sometime Friday.

Freshmen Elect

Freshman students at Texas State College for Women (CIA) selected Miss Anne Hughton, Dallas, and Miss Kula Makris, Pine Bluff, Ark., to head the 1935-36 class. Approximately 1,000 first year students took part in the recent elections.

SENATOR NORRIS—SAYS:

"There is no truth in the charge that the President wishes to nullify or modify the Constitution in any manner other than that provided by law," he said. "His critics offer nothing in exchange for what he has offered. They are chiselers. They attempt to tear down without building up. Most groups opposing him would like to have at their disposal the jobs he possesses. I say that any party that is held together by jobs cannot survive."

Mr. and Mrs. Ray Russell and little daughter, Janis, spent the week-end with relatives in Fort Worth.

WHAT ABOUT RENT INSURANCE?

Many a home-owner, driven out by fire, has congratulated himself on having the fire damage covered only to face an unexpected expense—rent of quarters during the period of repair.

A RENT INSURANCE POLICY will pay a sum equal to the rental value of your property. A similar policy will protect the rental income of landlords.

The cost is moderate. Let Us Tell You How

DR. W. J. HOWELL, FORMERLY OF HAMLIN, DIED FRIDAY

Friends of Dr. W. J. Howell, formerly of this city were saddened to learn of his death in Rochester, on Friday, November 8.

Dr. Howell has been in very ill health for about 17 months.

Dr. Howell married Miss Lute Clements, whose father, B. E. Clements and a brother reside in this city, about 22 years ago, and the companion and one daughter, Mrs. Kay Bryan, now of Baylor University, survive.

Dr. Howell and his family resided in Hamlin for two years some 12 years ago, when they moved to Rochester, Texas, which place he continued his practice till his health failed him.

Funeral services were held at the Rochester Baptist Church last Saturday afternoon, attended by Mr. and Mrs. Ira Clements of Hamlin, Mr. and Mrs. R. S. Johnson and W. L. Fletcher, Jr. and Rev. Woodie Holden, pastor of the Church of Christ.

Mrs. Howell and her daughter have many close friends in Hamlin who sympathize with them in their great loss.

VISITING MAN DIED QUITE SUDDENLY SATURDAY

W. M. Watson, of Fairfield, Texas, who with his family, was a visitor in the Wise Chapel community, in the home of his daughter, Mrs. Clyde Whitaker, was stricken suddenly, on the street in Hamlin, Saturday afternoon and fell upon the concrete near the Day Hardware corner.

The Barrow ambulance quickly conveyed the unconscious man to the Hamlin Hospital where examination revealed no alarming conditions, and it was thought perhaps the trouble was from some kind of stomach ailment. It is said that near 9:30 that night he remarked to his wife, who was in the room with him, that he felt sleepy—drowsy-like and she stepped into the reception room just for a minute or two and then returned to the bedside of her husband and found him dead.

For a number of years W. M. Watson and family lived in the nearby communities of Hamlin—in Wise Chapel and the Flat Top sections. Four years ago the family moved to Fairfield, in Limestone County, and last week, they came by Dallas and accompanied by a daughter, Mrs. Stegman, came on to visit in the Hamlin community.

W. M. Watson was born in Navarro County on March 19, 1878, and died on November 9, 1935, making his age 57 years, 7 months and 20 days. In early childhood he went, with his parents, to Wood County, Texas, where he lived to the age of 24 years. In this county he was united in marriage to Miss Nancy Baker, on July 18, 1900. To this union there were twelve children, ten of whom with their mother survive. The children are: Aaron, Owen, Leonard and W. M. Jr., residing in the parental home; Noble Watson and Mrs. Clyde Whitaker, of Hamlin; Jessie Watson, of Mexico, Texas; Mrs. Mattie Teague, of Abilene; Mrs. F. W. Stegman, of Dallas, and M. H. Watson, of Matagorda, Texas. All the immediate family came for the funeral except M. H. Watson, who could not be located in time.

Besides the immediate family, the deceased is survived by three brothers, J. L. and B. E. Watson of Dallas, and J. C. Watson of Hamlin.

In early life Mr. Watson became a member of the Baptist Church and held his membership with the Flat Top Church at the time of death.

Funeral services were conducted at the Abbie Church, Monday afternoon, by Rev. Fielder.

The Barrow Funeral Directors were in charge of the body and interment was in the Fairview Cemetery.

The sudden going of this man from his family, prompts widespread sympathy for all the bereaved ones.

HAMLIN GINS GET BIG SHARE

Of the 26,181 bales for all of Jones County Hamlin's four gins get a big share of the crop.

To date (Thursday, Nov. 14, 2:30 P. M.) the grand total of all all Hamlin's gins is 3409 or nearly one-seventh of the county. Cotton is again coming in briskly and all that is needed is some dry weather for a few weeks.

100 PER CENT

NOT long ago I visited a friend, the personnel director of a large eastern firm. Her observation was keen. The interest of my visit centered around her summation of the 100 per cent business woman. Would you change these figures if you were hiring a young person of character in your business?

Mental Adequacy — 15% Initiative — 12%
Health — 15% Cooperation — 10%
Personality — 15% Industry — 10%
Appearance — 13% Punctuality — 10%

My job resembles a physician's, she said laughingly, "one look at the patient tells more than several reference letters." During her first interview she glimpses the individual's attitude toward life by what she calls "four success signals." They are:

a. What is the pulse of the head?
b. Does she look as well going as coming?
c. Does she use or abuse the king's English?

d. Has she personality plus?
Posture was her first signal. Few people realize how self-revealing posture is. The set of one's head on the shoulders bespeaks one's degree of ambition, or lack of it. A straight front look reflects one's self-confidence. Too much self-confidence, however, is as bad as none, for that approaches conceit.

Appearance was second. Well-groomed does not imply expensively gowned. It implies, however, neatness, care in detail and cleanliness. Those who are careful, clever, and chic are "sartorially smarter" than some others who count figures into four columns for their year's wardrobe. More self-respect can be bought for 25 cents in a shoe shop, where heels are straightened, than any place in the wide world. This makes one look as well going as coming. Earrings and rouge can never reach as far in this matter of toilet, as a healthy well-kept skin.

The third was an unusually high hurdle—mental adequacy. My friend almost despaired at the linguistic paucity prevalent today, even among our college graduates. The English language and the "American slang" are farther apart than the ocean wide.

The fourth and last X-ray test was the most subtle. "I have several ways of proving the innate refinement of my visitor," she said, "this I call personality plus. Absolute indifference to my telephone conversations brings her score one. I watch her emotional reactions and self-control when she discusses with me her hobbies, how she spends her leisure time, or the qualities she likes best in her new friends."

These four success signals recall what Emerson said: "What you do speaks so loudly I cannot hear what you say!"

HAMLIN SCHOOL TO HAVE ART EXHIBIT

Mr. Cox, of the Hamlin High School faculty, is sponsoring an attractive Art Exhibit at the High School building during the week of Dec. 2 to Dec. 6, inclusive. A part of the small cost that will be charged to see this exhibit of the reproduction of the masterpieces of the great Artists of many generations will go to the benefit of the school. Art is cultivation for everyone who sees it. No one can observe even a reproduction of a beautiful painting without feeling of "up-lift." So, keep talking ART and when the week arrives you will be in the proper attitude to stand and enjoy what the hand of others have done on canvass.

The small sum of 15c will be charged to ALL.

This collection consists of 150 Masterpieces representing the French, Italian, Flemish, English, Dutch, Spanish, German and American Schools of Art. Most of these are the Masterpieces studied by the schools. Famous portraits, landscapes, marines, and pastoral scenes in the colors of the original canvases will be on display.

SCHOOL NEWS

FRESHMAN CLASS REPORT

Wednesday, Nov. 6, the Freshman Class had its first assembly. About fifteen girls sang two songs, "Autumn Lullaby" and "Londonderry Air." Pauline Shelton gave a reading and Emory Brown played a violin solo. A quartet, Wayne Cotton, Carl Andrews, Billy McGough and John Max Taylor sang "Home On the Range" and "Darkness on the Delta."

Wed. Nov. 13, the class had a meeting. Miss Phenix read part of "The Covered Wagon" to them.

SOPHOMORE REPORT FOR

NOV. 15, 1935

The Sophomores held a class meeting Wednesday afternoon at the regular meeting place. The meeting was called to order by the president. Then the minutes were read and approved and new and old business was cared for.

Ways and means to make money to add new books to the school library were discussed. The Sophomores will probably sponsor a picture show with this purpose in mind within the next few weeks.

MORE SHOWS — CARNIVALS

As the shows pulled out the past week-end another long string pulled in. From the looks of banners and signs it would seem that Hamlin is being entertained this week by the "Texas Kid Shows." It has been rather cold on the boys, but that's all in the game. Folks just like to enjoy excitement and carnivals and their many different shows get the crowds.

Speaking of "Shows," might say here that the Harley Sadler Circus is a dandy little show—big as any as far as he proposes to go. He is just starting and maybe some day we shall see a long string of cars, hundreds of strange equipment and fun and foolishness galore in the Sadler Circus. You just can't tell what that fellow Sadler will think up. Why, he had some of the best actors, prettiest actors, too, that you ever saw. The weather last Friday was just tough on anybody's show, and in spite of the mud Sadler's folks entertained well.

JONES COUNTY CLUB WOMEN

TO MEET SATURDAY

The Jones County Federation of Women's Clubs will meet in the County Court Room at 2:30 o'clock on November 16, to further complete the organization of club and make plans for years work. Let all who plan to come into organization be sure and have your delegate and club president present so that all may be equally inspired for the work ahead.

—REPORTER.

Mr. and Mrs. S. D. McMahon were among the many Hamlinites who motored away on Armistice or before to seek excitement among strangers. That is the way of children, go away off yonder every chance they get. We mean to say that Mr. and Mrs. McMahon are growing younger every year. They are as young as the younger set, from what they report about their trip with a lot of youngsters to the Arlington Downs. They arrived late Monday night.

HAMLIN ROTARY HAD A GOOD SPEAKER

Wednesday the Hamlin Rotary Club was treated to one of the best Rotary talks that has been their privilege for a long time to hear.

The speaker was Richard H. Wells, of Pocatello, Idaho, sponsored by the Headquarters office in Chicago. Rotarian Wells has had a wide experience in travel and speaking, yet he is but a young man. He entered Rotary under the classification as "Retail Ice" which was a small job but he proved himself worthy of the vocation he was in and as years went by he grew in every dimension. Today he is ranked as one of Idaho's biggest men, one whom we may expect to hear of in National affairs.

His speaking tours are without pay or profit, and only for the promotion of that fellowship and closer understanding among men that Rotary promotes.

A GOOD EXAMPLE

It is a fact beyond question that it pays the farmers to plan their programs over a period of years instead of year to year practiced by many.

O. W. Rust, a tenant farmer of the Tuxedo community has proved that it is best to look forward. Last fall feed was scarce and high in price but he bought four Poland China pigs and he now has four porkers which tip the scales at 400 pounds each and he now has feed galore to further increase their weight by the time "the frost is on the pumpkin vine, and the corn is in the shock." Follow Mr. Rust's example and always play safe.

Mr. and Mrs. Arche Pardue are entertaining a fine little lady at their home since Sunday, November 10. That date is the birthday of little Miss Marie Pardue. The grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Brydson, of Austin, were greeted by the little lady when she was but a few hours old. Mr. and Mrs. Brydson spent Monday with their daughter and little granddaughter.

SHE'S THE GIRL WHO HANDLES YOUR TELEPHONE CALLS

This is the girl who handles your telephone calls.

Every part of the far-flung Bell System organization exists largely to help her do the best possible job of connecting you with the people to whom you want to talk.

Linemen cling to icy poles to keep the voice-paths open to her touch. Staff experts of American Telephone & Telegraph Company, parent company of the System, hunt better methods for her to use. Scientists of Bell Telephone Laboratories seek new inventions to place at her finger-tips.

And the factories and shops of Western Electric, supply unit of the Bell System, are busy making the insulators, the wires and the equipment she needs to flash your voice around the block, across the state, or across the nation.

It is largely because this group of specialized organizations stands behind her...and has done its job so well for her...that she is able to give you the good, economical telephone service you receive today.

The Architect Plans
For The Future

A Modern House for The Lower Income Group

BUILT beside Rockefeller Plaza's Gardens of the Nations by General Electric Company for its New American Homes Campaign, Future House attracted New Yorkers by the thousands to the latest addition to America's modern homes, reports The Literary Digest.

With no specifications as to the type of architecture or the number of rooms, contestants were asked to design a house for a carefully described make-believe family. Out of the plans submitted by 9,700 architects and designers evolved Future House. The House was erected for an average family in the lower-income brackets and contains five rooms with 80 per cent. usable space, instead of the 65 per cent. of the average existing house.

Design and Equipment

Through a roofed terrace visitors entered directly into a semi-modernistically furnished living room, lit by a sunken light in the ceiling. Halfway, at one side was a dining room, blocked off by a wall of glass bricks. The completely equipped kitchen included cooking range, dish-washing machine, toaster, and other appliances. The master's bedroom in the rear contained two closets, one fitted with a small dresser. Next door was a nursery and adjoining alcove. Cork floors and closefitting windows insured quiet, and a conditioning machine, run by oil and regulated by electricity, purified the air.

Amodec Corporation supplied coordinating house furnishings. Accessories Company of the American Radiator Company contributed bathroom units, and General Electric furnished air-conditioning, and sundry kitchen appliances.

Almost 9000 communities, or 65 per cent. of the country's total population, are carrying on better-housing programs. This House, adaptable to any type of architecture, can be built throughout the country within the $5000 to $7000 price-range. Under the Federal mutual-mortgage plan, according to Julian Gerard, Regional Housing Administrator, prospective buyers could probably take out one mortgage for $4000, amortized over twenty years.

"Buyers pay off principal and interest in reasonable monthly instalments. They have no worry about mortgages falling due, or refinancing them, and, at the end of the period, the home is owned free and clear."

WARNING ABOUT
SHELLED PECANS

AUSTIN, Texas, Nov. 10. — Pecans, the favorite nut of thousands of people, may be a source for the spread of disease, according to E. C. Koerth, Director, Bureau of Food and Drugs. The pecan itself is not to blame, but the manner in which it is shelled and later handled is the cause for this warning.

The shelled pecan industry has assumed large proportions in the last few years and the shellers in other states have attacked the Texas product on the ground that the shelled nuts are not handled in a sanitary manner. The large packing houses that have the nuts shelled in their own packing plants maintain a satisfactory standard of sanitation. The evil of the shelled pecan industry is where pecans are taken into individual homes where no supervision is possible.

Many Mexicans, Negroes, and a few whites do this work at home, with at times the neighbors coming in to help them out. It is possible for the communicable diseases to spread by shelled pecans, and for that reason it will be to the public's advantage to ask where the pecans were shelled and under what conditions. The food inspectors of the State Department of Health have investigated the home shelling of pecans for hire and report that many homes where this work is done are most unsanitary.

All persons engaged in shelling pecans should have a health certificate the same as any other food handler. The purchaser should demand that the pecans they buy shall have been shelled by such a person and handled in a sanitary manner and under supervision to lessen the chances for the spread of tuberculosis, colds, dysentery, typhoid, and other diseases.—STATE DEPT. HEALTH.

CHILD CARE AND TRAINING

Child education begins when the child is just a few days or hours old. And its mother should know something about child training before it is born.

The first 8 or 10 years are the most important. Habits of life are formed then, and these years of training should receive careful thought.

A child's training is physical, mental and moral and should be a partnership business between father and mother.

Toys contribute most, that require ingenuity on the child's part.

Good books help a great deal in forming character of the child and should receive careful selection.

This program was given by Sweden H. D. Club at Mrs. J. H. McKays, Nov. 5.

New officers were elected. Mrs. B. C. Carriker, pres., Miss Lillie Young, Vice Pres., Miss Girtie Young, Sec.-Treas., Mrs. E. R. Rector, Reporter, Mmes. C. H. Clark and J. H. McKay, Council Members.

PEACHES and Cream. Here's a new version — pretty enough for a company meal and yet simple enough for every day — peach halves, topped with whipped cream and coconut. Some fine cooks use the crushed kernels of peach stones to add extra tang to peach desserts, but I think you'll find that a few drops of almond extract "point up" the flavor just as well.

Peach Dreams

Fill peach halves with mixture of sweetened whipped cream and moist, sweetened coconut, flavored with almond extract. Sprinkle additional coconut over top.

WHO SHARES?

(Council Bluffs Nonpareil)

Ford made an automobile. Maytag made a washing machine.

It appears that both were good machines and sold at prices that attracted buyers. Both got rich. One got richer than the other, but both sold enough machines to become very wealthy.

There is a little connection, not between the men, but between the machines. Both machines were sold to ordinary folks. The farmer and the mechanic bought the Fords. The women who did their own washing bought the washing machine. Both bought because they needed it. The Ford made the long miles short. The washer shortened the day, relieved weariness and toil, and offered time for other matters. Might say with reason both were poor folks, working folks' machines.

Ford, a bench mechanic, "grewed" like Topsy. He left the bench but he put 100,000 other men in his place. Maytag started a factory to build a few washers. It grew. It aided greatly to make a 10,000 city grow out of a little town. It paid wages to other men for making washing machines and parts of washing machines, and they raised families, bought homes. No, the Fords and Maytags didn't get it all. Not by those hundred thousands the factories employed. But both got rich. Other able and active men have done the same thing.

But did it make them public enemies?

Coming close to home as wealth gaining and wealth sharing this Maytag Manufacturer, who got rich paying other men wages, seems to have done some sharing. An Iowa newspaper recently published some interesting figures of Newton and the founder of the factory which has had much to do with the prosperity of the town, like this:

Maytag Hotel and office building	$1,000,000
Y. M. C. A.	250,000
Birthday Gift to Employees	132,000
Skiff Memorial Hospital	15,000
Pipe Organ and subscription
Presbyterian Church	15,000
Sacred Heart Church	5,000
Salvation Army Citadel	75,000
Maytag Park (Now under construction)	250,000

Now do we want such factories though those who found and operate them gain wealth by their operation? Or shall we consider them as public enemies?

What town or city or what resident in either would not welcome a factory, its employment, its wage roll as a public benefactor though the founder and operator did grow rich instead of remaining a bench worker?

How shall we "redistribute" ambition, ability, and resourcefulness along with the mere money we may confiscate? How confiscate brains, energy and inventiveness?

UP! UP!

To Capt. A. W. Stevens and Capt. Orville A. Anderson of the U. S. Army, belongs the honor of being off the ground higher than any other men in the world. Rising at 8:00 o'clock A. M. Monday they rose to more than 74,000 feet or more than 14 miles and landed safely at 4:13 P. M.

It is now up to somebody else to go higher—and higher yet they may go—but like most things there is a limit. Up there somewhere 100,000 feet there ceases to be any air, or at least not enough to "float."

FACE THE GORY FACTS

—SUDDEN DEATH

Few journalistic achievements of recent years have caused such a furor as the publication, by Readers' Digest, of J. C. Furnas' article, "—And Sudden Death."

This article, which describes the horror of automobile accidents in the most realistic and even nauseous terms, has been reprinted, in whole or in part, in a long list of newspapers and magazines throughout the country. It has become the basis for speeches by safety and law enforcement authorities. One Canadian Province distributes copies of it to drivers, and a New York judge has started the practice of reading it to traffic violators appearing in his court.

Most important of all, perhaps, the article may have established a journalistic precedent. One of the country's largest dailies recently announced that henceforth it would apply the "—And Sudden Death" method in reporting major traffic accidents. The descriptions will no longer be confined to medical terms and softened phrases. They will include actual word pictures of smashed skulls, of compound fractures, of spurting arteries, of crushed chests—of all the horrors that are part and parcel of the accidents which claim 35,000 lives a year in this country.

Newspapers large and small could well follow that example. The driver who reads that John Smith was killed when trying to make a corner at high speed often passes the news by with a minimum of thought. If he read, instead, that it was necessary to scrape John Smith's body from his smashed car, and that recognition was made possible only by examination of his dental work, he'd remember it.

It's time we faced the gory facts—time we all realized that the scene of an automobile accident can be as horrible as a battlefield. And it's time we remembered that automobiles have killed many more Americans than have all the wars of our history.

And the second game was lost to Girard, score 19 and 16, but the girls brought back with them the record of being the best sports out of ten teams and each player was awarded a gold basket ball.

A wonderful time was enjoyed by all and the boys and girls teams both are expecting to make several more trips during the basketball season.

"Believe It or Not, I'm Well."—Ripley

It was almost a "Believe-it-or-not" proposition to Herman Ripley, 3215 Kings Road, Dallas, formerly of McKinney, when he obtained relief from acid stomach trouble of long standing in two days. "Pains in my stomach, pain around my heart, dizziness, and gas and bloating after meals, had been going on for a year," he said. "In two days after starting on Gordon's Compound, all distress stopped. I had been restricted to soft foods, such as cereals. Now I eat whatever I like."

Milestones of American Genius

Memorial on the grave of Boone at Frankfort, Ky.

DANIEL BOONE

THE glamor of Daniel Boone's romantic career of exploration and pioneering has lighted up vistas of achievement for many generations of American youth. The ideals for which his memory stands — self-reliance, daring, perseverance — have guided millions of Americans in their own undertakings.

Even in his lifetime Daniel Boone became an object of veneration at his home in what is now La Charette, Missouri, and the monument over his final resting place at Frankfort, Kentucky, still draws thousands of pilgrims annually. Representing as it does the intrepid spirit of the American westward movement, his character is a living force in American history.

Boone was born near Reading, Pa., probably on November 2, 1734. Little is known of his boyhood, but thrilling legends cluster about his trapping, hunting and exploration of virgin territories. His knowledge of woodcraft, his courage and his understanding of Indian ways led to his engagement by Judge Richard Henderson to explore the whole Kentucky area and to negotiate with the Cherokees for the purchase of a vast tract for settlement.

In that and other explorations, his endurance in the face of hardships, his resourcefulness, became the stuff of which national myths are made. He was a hero molded to the needs of a young and vigorous nation and remains the idol of American boys.

Boone lived to see the frontier which he had helped push westward advanced far beyond his boldest dreams. In his old age Congress recognized his pioneering services by granting him a small property in La Charette, where he pursued his robust life as a trapper and hunter until his death in 1820, at the age of 86.

Twenty-five years later, his remains and those of his wife were removed to Frankfort, Kentucky. The need to perpetuate remembrance of those whom the nation loves and admires is taken for granted by Americans, and it has encouraged tributes to Daniel Boone everywhere in the land. He was a great American conqueror, whose weapons were those of peace and skill.

A MODERN DUODECIMO OF HEALTH

OF EVERY 100 persons that are now alive, 36 will die from preventable diseases before they reach sixty-five years of age. If you want to be one of the sixty-four who reaches the age of sixty-five, follow these rules, part of which are Dr. Thomas D. Woods' creed of keeping fit:

1. Eat less, chew more.
2. Smoke less, breathe more.
3. Ride less, walk more.
4. Bundle less, bathe more.
5. Worry less, work more.
6. Hurry less, read more.
7. Idle less, play more.
8. Talk less, think more.
9. Go less, sleep more.
10. Waste less, give more.
11. Scold less, laugh more.
12. Preach less, practice more.

Scold less and laugh more, for there are far too few "morning faces" seen today in our thoroughfares, instead there is a worried, tired look as though people had forgotten how to smile. The depression has taken much cheer out of the world. Stocks and bonds can go, but the radiance must not go from our every day living! Let us not forget the healthful exercise of laughter. Some one has said it takes fewer muscles to smile than frown.

This radiance should not pass with childhood. Childhood has many traits for us to emulate in middle age.

Childhood loves laughter and life. Children exercise. They are always moving and growing. They are happily busy and busily happy. This is why they live abundantly.

Health is the greatest asset of the human race. Daily are we beginning to wake up to the fact that physicians are for the purpose of keeping us well rather than getting us well. Not only is individual health kept constantly before the public mind with its health column in the newspapers, cautioning over-eaters, the radio answering diet questions, outdoor summer camps for younger children, and health books and magazines, but community health is being brought to the laity also through cities' safe water and milk supply, cleanliness of streets and new methods of sewerage disposals. This is thinking in positive health terms.

Health at its best means resistance to disease, relaxation from mental tension, calm from anxiety, regularity at all times, recreative power through play, temperate living and thinking, spiritual enthusiasm for one's work. Health brings a radiance in our living and gives us and others life abundant.

W. M. White, who was called here some two weeks ago on account of the death of his brother, Frank White, returned Tuesday to his home in Los Angeles, California. He was accompanied by Mrs. Frank White and son, Frank Jr., who will visit there for a month.

THE IMPORTANCE OF . . . VENTILATION

The warm air throughout the home during winter should be just as pure and contain just as much oxygen as the fresh, pure air of summer. Rooms that are poorly ventilated, even though sufficiently warm for comfort, can be injurious to health. Stale or stagnant air is depressing, and fails to produce the pleasant and stimulating effect of pure air in motion. . . . No matter what kind of fuel you use to heat your home during winter, it is important to have proper ventilation and circulation of pure air. This is especially important if the flame from the fuel comes in contact with the air you breathe. The reason is simple.

Fuel does not burn unless mixed with oxygen. Prove this to yourself by the simple test of dropping a lighted match into a bottle. Place your hand on top of the bottle and you will note that the match stick will NOT continue to burn after the oxygen inside the bottle has been used up by the burning fuel. Likewise, the oxygen content of the air inside your home is gradually reduced by the occupants of the household through the processes of breathing and by the fuel burning in your heating equipment.

Without proper ventilation the air becomes stale. Sooner or later the tender air passages of the body become inflamed, leaving them an easy prey to vicious attacks of "colds" and serious respiratory diseases. Guard your health this winter with proper ventilation as well as adequate heat in every room in your home.

YOUR CHILD AND THE SCHOOL

By Dr. ALLEN G. IRELAND
Director, Physical and Health Education
New Jersey State Department of Public Instruction

Bare Feet

Grown ups often take on a wistful look when someone mentions "the barefoot boy." But parents, too many parents, take on a look of alarm when a son expresses a desire to be that boy.

What a pity it is that rumor can destroy so much good fun! If a person doesn't worry about pickles and ice cream, or milk and orange juice taken together, he's sure to believe evil of going barefoot. Now there are two causes for worry but neither of them is flat feet. Arches may break when a child persists in jumping from high places, but it happens just as readily with shoes on. Arches also break more easily when a child is undernourished. But the simple rite of going barefoot in the summer doesn't mean a sure case of flat feet.

The two causes for worry are hookworm in certain parts of the country and the punctured wound. Where hookworm is prevalent, the readers are usually well informed as to prevention and treatment. But the punctured wound is too often neglected. We're too content with a wash and a scrub of antiseptic. The great danger is tetanus or lockjaw, which is frequently a fatal disease. There is one safeguard—tetanus antitoxin. When a child steps on a nail, take him to a physician. To neglect that precaution is folly of the worst kind.

How to get a ten painlessly will be Dr. Ireland's next subject.

FIRST SUNDAY SCHOOL IN TEXAS 100 YEARS AGO

GONZALES, Texas, Nov. 12.—Thousands of the faithful, devoted to the Texas of a hundred years ago and the religious fervor that pervaded its zeal for liberty, congregated here Sunday, Nov. 10, to honor the memory of Thomas J. Pilgrim, "father" of the first Sunday School in Texas.

As a fitting climax to five days of celebration, in which the firing of the first shot in the war for independence was memorialized, Texans in this old community pledged anew their faith in the ideals of this Connecticut youth who migrated to Texas in 1828 and founded the first Sunday School in San Felipe de Austin the following year.

History records his own definition of the school: "In a black jack and post oak grove near the center of the town is a rude log cabin about 18 by 22 feet, the roof covered with boards held down by weight poles, and logs unhewn, and cracks neither chinked nor battened, and a dirt floor."

Broken in health when he reached Texas, the "mere stripling," as he called himself, lived as a revered churchman in the Lone Star State for nearly 50 years.

Miss Mary Joe Wilemon, daughter of Walter Wilemon, of the Terrell Market, came home from Dallas where she has spent the past six months in a beauty culture school. She will perhaps have a position in a Hamlin beauty shop.

Mrs. W. O. Baker of Big Spring, came over to spend the Armistice holiday in Hamlin with friends. Mrs. Bakers is saleslady in a department store there.

Refreshing Relief When You Need a Laxative

Because of the refreshing relief it has brought them, thousands of men and women, who could afford much more expensive laxatives, use Black-Draught when needed. It is very economical, purely vegetable, highly effective. . . Mr. J. Lester Roberson, well known hardware dealer at Martinsville, Va., writes: "I certainly can recommend Black-Draught as a splendid medicine. I have taken it for constipation and the dull feelings that follow, and have found it very satisfactory."

BLACK-DRAUGHT

The Herald has a "publicity" note from Canyon, Texas, saying that during the past four months four cars have visited the Park from Hamlin. Among those making favorable comments regarding the beauties of the Palo Duro Park were: Judge L. Crow and family, H. E. Brown and family, whose comment was "the peak of Texas scenic beauty."

Attorney and Mrs. Frank Taylor, of Fort Worth, Texas, spent the week-end here with their parents, Dr. and Mrs. J. F. Taylor. They were accompanied by U. S. Commissioner, L. Feagan and wife, who were also guests in the home of Dr. and Mrs. Taylor.
